Program Note
Tonight's play is the first in a semi-autobiographical trilogy by famed comic playwright Neil Simon. We experience the main character's (Eugene) mope through adolescence in a Jewish household in the late 1930s. Our country is on the brink of war, and Eugene's family is concerned with the developments overseas. We hope you enjoy 'Brighton Beach Memoirs,' our final offering to the community this 2001-2002 school year.
