Welcome to “Annie”!
GHS first musical in the Performing Arts Center.

Thank you, people of Greenville.

What a show to perform! Annie is a complicated musical, requiring more of its performers, musicians, and crew than most students at GHS are accustomed to, especially in the areas of music, dance, characterization, and set construction. This is the last time many of our students have been involved in an full-scale Broadway musical. However, all have worked hard to bring you their best in this outstanding production of “Annie.”

Hats off to the cast, musicians, crew, and staff for a job well done. We are so excited, pleased, and proud of what the students and adults have accomplished. Everyone has risen to the occasion, and in some cases, gone far beyond what was expected of them. Thanks also to all the parents who worked back stage running after the “kids” picking up stuff, painting costumes and painting sets.

Our appreciation to all of the over 100 adults and students involved in our production. We couldn’t have done it with out any of you. This truly has been a team effort. Our personal thanks to everyone for all the time, love, and energy you have all given this show. Truly it is a job well done.

Mr. Chapman would personally like to thank Bryan Davenport, Jacqueline VanDum and Katherine Barnett for their considerable work on the production. Without their hard work, “Annie” would live in a much smaller section of NYC.

Mr. Chapman
Mrs. Hansen
